

Helping us through difficult times

'John Mills from Eluvia, has been our trusted Financial Advisor for 18 years. During this time we have found John to be a man of integrity, who brings insight and clarity into, what seemed to us complex financial problems. He has handled our financial affairs with expertise and attention to detail. Particularly reassuring to us, is our feeling of certainty in the absolute integrity of his dealings with us.

John's professional, ethical and caring demeanour elicits our trust and respect. John is interested in his clients' needs, circumstances and investment preferences. He took time getting to know us and is happy and engaging. We love his exuberant laugh and we never doubt his professional acumen.

John is pleasant and easy to work with. Interested in not only investment details but also in our personal life. John is courteous and helpful and always available and ready to provide honest advice and direction, making us feel he has all day to talk to us about our concerns. He explains things thoroughly, and we never feel uncomfortable asking questions. He has given us consistently good advice and with great results for our investments. He particularly guided us through the ups and downs of the financial roller coaster in recent years.

We highly recommend John Mills and Eluvia for their range of services to any of our friends and family as we continue our relationship with them.'
